

As a listener of a national radio station, KLOVE, I am quite concerned that the FCC may choose to give preference to LPFM stations. In the Virginia Beach, VA area (where my family lives and I spend much of my time), very few Christian radio stations exist. If KLOVE were to be displaced by an LPFM broadcaster providing other programming, the local community would be left without a Christian music station that provides a reliable signal throughout all parts of the city. KLOVE provides public service announcements for events of local interest in our area. Access to Christian radio stations is integral to the public's right to freedom of religion. Therefore, the service provided by KLOVE is in the public's best interest. Please do not take a wonderful radio station off the air in our area!
